Happy Holidays from the Office of Health Transformation

December 21, 2011

As we near the end of John Kasich's first year in Office, I want to thank everyone who is working to improve Ohio's health system performance.

Our first priority in the Office of Health Transformation was to modernize Medicaid, the health coverage program for low-income Ohioans. I feel good about the results, which are summarized with other health and human services program accomplishments in this Year-End Report.

Of course, there is much still to do, as Ohio Medicaid Director John McCarthy described yesterday in his testimony on Next Steps for Medicaid Reform.

In addition to Medicaid, our updated Strategic Plan calls for bold initiatives in the New Year to streamline health and human services and engage private sector partners to improve overall health system performance.

On behalf of the Governor's Health Transformation team, thank you again for everything you are doing to improve Ohio's health system performance.

Happy Holidays and Best Wishes for a Healthy New Year.

Greg Moody, Director
Office of Health Transformation
